CONSUMPTION.

The early symptoms of this disease are a sense of weariness upon little exertion, and disposition to remain passive and idle; a peculiar sensitiveness of the effects of cold, and a shortness of breath upon moving quickly or ascending a hill or stairs, a slight hacking cough with or without expectoration, flying pains throughout the chest or back or under the shoulder-blades; the symptoms are worse towards or during the night; slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet and hands, and in many cases blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails. The more advanced symptoms are wasting of flesh, diarrhœa, chills and fever, night sweats, expectoration of yellow pus from the ulcers or cavities in the lungs, with or without a depression of the chest, increasing weakness, and at last a closing up of the air passages of the lungs, causing strangulation or suffocation of the patient for want of power to expectorate the mucus from the lungs. Heretofore the treatment of consumption has been very unsatisfactory, both to physicians and their patients, but luckily, since the discovery of the Aerean system of practice, a few years ago, thousands of cases have been completely cured, where, had it not been for this system of practice, utter failure to combat the evils of the disease would have continued up to the present time. The system of Medicated Inhalation is the only means by which these diseases can be cured. By this means we are enabled to dissolve the hardened mucus in the lungs, ease the cough, facilitate expectoration, contract and heal ulcers and cavities after all hope of cure by ordinary methods is passed. CONSULTATION FREE. Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call personally for an examination, but if impossible to do so, may write for a list of Questions and Medical Treatise, Address M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D., 275 North Main street, Los Angeles, Cal. Office hours from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Sundays from 3 to 4 p. m. Professional visits before and after office hours. no19 d&w

The Times.

Office—Temple, Main and New High

OUR Sacramento letter, published this morning, is taken up almost entirely with the pertinent subject of the proposed branch insane asylum, and the propriety of its location in or near Los Angeles. The views of Representative Hazard are given with clearness and particularity, and at some length. He is strongly opposed to the establishment of the proposed institution anywhere in Los Angeles county, and gives reasons therefor, which are set out by the TIMES staff correspondent. Senator Del Valle is also opposed to the proposition, and Assemblymen Edwards and Banbury do not appear to favor it with any earnestness. They are undecided as to the question of its claimed benefits to this section, and are waiting for light and instructions from their constituents. Senator Del Valle puts his opposition on another ground. He fears that the application for an appropriation for such an institution may jeopardize more important measures to us, to wit: a $40,000 appropriation for the Branch Normal School, and $10,000 for the Supreme Court at Los Angeles. He does not believe in asking too much lest we get nothing. This is a view of the matter worthy the consideration of our people, to determine whether there is anything in it or not. The TIMES presents both sides of the case to them impartially, and asks for further expressions of public opinion upon all phases of the question. Mr. Hazard thinks an insane asylum will be of no benefit, but a damage to Los Angeles, and will not be converted to the support of the measure until he is convinced that his constituents as a whole really desire it.

In this state of the case the advocates of the measure will see the necessity of bringing to bear all the "floocence" they are able to command, to convert, first, their own representatives, and, next, the Legislature itself to the support of the measure.

As for the TIMES, we are not convinced that it would be greedy for Southern California to ask reasonable appropriations for the Branch Normal School, for the Supreme Court, for a reform school for boys, and even for a lunatic asylum—all four. At the same time we are in favor of going for what is practicable, and opposed to chancing defeat by asking too much all "to wunst." It should not be assumed that these appropriations will necessarily be for the benefit of Los Angeles alone, or exclusively. They would not be, and the two last named institutions—the boy's school and the insane establishment—need not necessarily be located in Los Angeles itself. There are other more suitable places near by for their location. Let our people promptly express themselves on these subjects for the information of our Assemblymen and Senator, leaving to them to feel the pulse of the Legislature and determine the feasibility of pushing any or all the proposed appropriations.

MRS. MYRA CLARKE GAINES, the astonishing old lady whose energy in pushing her claims to a large property in New Orleans made her famous, and who died on the 9th inst., surrendered to Death, not to the law's delays.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS,

As the Exhibition of Them at New Orleans Impresses Strangers.

A special correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, writing from the New Orleans Exposition, speaking of the California exhibit, has the following handsome compliment to pay our display of fruits:

Most Northern people are much interested in and astonished at the Japanese persimmons which are shown from California, Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia. It is amusing to watch the perplexed looks with which these unfamiliar fruits are greeted. There are several distinct varieties shown; some closely resemble a tomato in form and color, while others are acorn-shaped and about the size of a medium Bartlett pear. These fruits WILL CERTAINLY BEAR TRANSPORTATION, as those from California have already been in the city a month. In the opinion of many, these persimmons surpass all other fruits of the temperate zone in their richness of flavor and delicacy of texture.

California's exhibit covers fourteen tables, embracing products of vineyard and orchard, from San Diego to the northern counties, and from the foothills of the Sierra Nevadas to the valleys of the sea. This excellent exhibit embraces oranges, lemons, limes, pomegranates, apples, pears, grapes, quinces, almonds, walnuts, chestnuts, and last, thought not least, Japanese persimmons. Some of the pears are said to weigh three pounds apiece, but it is to be regretted that the season of the year does not permit an exhibit of numerous varieties of this fruit.

The grapes are very handsome, covering about three tables and embracing some twenty varieties, all of the European class, or, as we on this side of the mountains would say, hot-house grapes.

The apples exhibited in the California display are in good variety, of wonderful size, and they have a richness of color entirely unequaled by the products of our Eastern orchards. The display, as a whole, is regarded by all the fruit man who have seen it as magnificent, and the more impressive, as Pacific coast apples have never been exhibited in quantity east of the Rocky Mountains before. It is to be regretted that the long period during which these fruits have been in transit, and the natural tendency to early ripening in fruits matured in warm climates, will make it impossible to preserve this collection for any great length of time.

The Whims of Singers.

Boston Journal.]

The public is often amused by the refusal of great singers to sing after a hearty meal, and the disappointments and lawsuits which sometime arise in consequence are regarded as the results of foolish whims. Such is not the fact, however. Public singers are obliged to be very careful about their diet, as the voice is sensibly affected by the conditions of the stomach. A prima donna could not sing on a meal cooked as the average hotel furnishes it. An old and tried friend of Miss Kellogg's says that while a good-natured laugh passes over the face of the country at Miss Kellogg's little frying pan and alcohol stove, that little frying pan and alcohol stove have made it possible for Miss Kellogg to sing after a day's journey when she would have no appetite for ordinary hotel food. Patti knows this, and has her own cook with her, who prepares her food just as she wants it. When engaged in an operatic season she will not eat of any one else's cooking.

Mimicked Wild Turkeys too Well.

Uniontown Genius of Liberty.]

On Tuesday, Abraham Shaffer, a prominent citizen of West Providence township, in Bradford county, while sitting behind a log imitating the cry of a turkey in the hope of attracting a flock of turkeys in his direction, was himself mistaken for a turkey by another hunter named Crawford, who, seeing only Mr. Shaffer's head and hearing the cry, fired, and put six shot in Mr. Shaffer's head and face. One shot took effect in the forehead, penetrating the outer bone of the skull, two above the left eye, one above the right eye, one in the mouth and one in front of the right eye. Fortunately, none of the wounds are serious.

WASHINGTON.

The Grant Retirement Bill Killed in Committee.

THE SENATE AND RAILROAD MONOPOLIES.

Proposed National Commission—Van Wyck Speaks for the Inter-State Commerce Bill.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. — Among the memorials presented in the Senate was one from 3000 cigar makers of Philadelphia, setting forth that the ratification of the pending Spanish treaty would throw out of employment more citizens of the United States than there were inhabitants of Cuba and Porto Rico, and protesting against the ratification. A number of other petitions against the ratification of the treaty were presented and referred to the proper committee.

A message from the House was received announcing the disagreement of that body to the Senate amendment to the temporary naval appropriation bill and asking a conference, and the Chair appointed a conference committee. The Chair then laid before the Senate the Inter-State Commerce bill.

Senator Sabin's substitute bill for the relief of homestead settlers, provides that settlers on public lands under the homestead laws shall be entitled to one year from the date of entry of lands within which to establish actual residence upon such lands.

Van Wyck addressed the Senate. He said that since 1872 all political parties had demanded redress from grievances in transportation, but party managers seemed to learn no lesson from disaster, and were still trying to amuse and cajole the people. The people only demanded a reasonable rate, no discrimination, no rebates, no rebates, no greater charge for a short than a long haul. This, he said, was no time for delsy. The work of deception cannot be longer carried on. You cannot pretend a willingness to do something, and that obstinate or unwilling House of Representatives refused. If the party falters now to accept the House bill an indignant people will believe it falters in a double sense, and is seeking by disagreement to prevent the legislation so long sought and so long denied. Roads owned and controlled elevators, and the farmer, if he desired, could not ship his own grain or cattle to market, for he could get no rebates. The power of absolute control by railroads was not always exercised in a saintly manner. To illustrate: The Union Pacific became incensed at Columbus, an active interior city of Nebraska, whose citizens were enterprising and aided to secure another road. The company determined they should be punished for such temerity and rebellion, so rates were changed and more was charged per carload from Omaha than to Kearney and points further west. So the Central Pacific, without excuse of revenge, or punishing rebellious subjects in their territory, actually charge to points east of San Francisco through rates to San Francisco and then local rates back. Was it not evident that railroads should be restricted from exacting more for a short haul than a long one? Van Wyck quoted from a letter written by William Walter Phelps, in which he said the latter showed that Senators and Representatives purchased railroad shares on a basis of one to three. Certainly, he said, stocks and bonds according to this evidence, are owned in this chamber and in the other end. Capital invests on that basis. That is, you put down one dollar and take up three; so it would appear that even members of Congress learn where the little joker is. No wonder there is here manifested the same contempt for public clamor as Vanderbilt is said to have exhibited in language more forcible but not so reverential as by the distinguished Senators. Jay Gould had greater wealth than the assessed property, real and personal, of both Kansas and Nebraska, and Vanderbilt could buy both States and have $40,000,000 left. Were those millions honestly acquired? The Senator from Iowa (Wilson) trembled lest too much should be done, and the Senator from Kansas (Ingalls) said he did not stand as an advocate or champion of that cheap demagoguery that appeals to public opinion against railroads. Railroads were entitled to the protection of the law. In Kansas and Nebraska fifty bushels of corn will not purchase one ton of coal. One hundred and fifty bushels will not buy one ton of hard coal. Your sympathy expands for pauper labor in Europe or India, while your hearts seem steeled against the cry for bread by Americans who are forced to work at starvation wages, or have their places supplied in mines by specially protected mine owners with pauper and convict labor imported under contract from Europe. It is the toiler seeking labor in a furnace of heat; in underground labyrinths, settlers in dug-outs on the frontiers of Kansas and Nebraska, whose wives and children are drawing warmth from corn because great corporations refuse to reduce the rates of freight so the coal from Pennsylvania may be exchanged for corn of the West. For twenty years these corporations have got rich, wrong and defiant in violation of the law, and now let us see to it that the protection of the law shall be given to those who are the victims of their extortion."

McPherson and Mitchell opposed Slater's pending amendment, prohibiting railroads from charging more for short than for long hauls; also Ingall's.

Van Wyck addressed a question to the Senator from Kansas (Ingalls): "Was it right to charge the same rates from Chicago to Kansas City as to Leavenworth?" Ingalls made no reply. The inquiry was repeated, but still without eliciting a response. Van Wyck said that while the Senator from Kansas was pondering over his reply, he would propound the same question to the Senator from Iowa (Allison).

Allison said he did not want to get into a colloquy with his friend from Nebraska.

Van Wyck: "No, I should think not." [Laughter.]

Allison said the rates to both points ought to be reasonable.

Ingalls thought the compensation of all roads should be proportioned to distance.

George offered an amendment providing that Slater's proposed amendment shall not be construed to legalize charging as much for a shorter as for a longer distance in any case.

George's amendment was agreed to, as modifying Slater's amendment.

The latter, however, not being a part of the bill, but still under debate.

Brown, of Georgia—"Consolidation," he said, "not competion, was the solution of the railroad question. The legislation proposed would greatly discourage the building of railroads. There may be enough of them North and West. Those sections may have enough game in the trap to pull the trigger, but it was not so with the South, which yet needed railroads. If the present bill passed, the people who were now clamoring for its passage would then be found clamoring for its repeal. It would either drive railroads into bankruptcy, or else it would prohibit all interchange of commodities beyond a greater distance than 500 or 600 miles." The statistics quoted by Brown showed that freight could not possibly bear the same proportionate rate for a thousand miles. It would not only destroy inter-State commerce, but by making long distance freights, from the West to the Atlantic coast, so expensive as to prohibit shipments. It would also destroy our foreign commerce.

Adjourned until to-morrow.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1885.

Unemployed Labor.

There are at present a good many men in Los Angeles who are out of employment. Notwithstanding the amount of building that is in progress, and the various improvements that are being pushed to completion, the number of unemployed persons is greater than at any other period within the past few years. This is owing, presumably, to the large influx of laborers from other sections of the State and country, who have been led here by the belief that in our rapidly-growing advancement there was an almost unlimited field for every department of labor. This has brought many here who are willing to work, but who can, unfortunately, find no employment. Some of these have families to support, and this makes their misfortune greater. Their case is a hard one. In the work of public improvements it seems that the city should in its employment of laborers discriminate in favor of those who have families dependent upon them. It is a hard thing for a man to go hungry in a land of such plenty as this, but it is harder still for him to be unable to supply the necessary food to the little mouths that look to him to be fed. Work should be found for such if possible. They do not belong to the tramp element. Among the tramps who visit us there is occasionally one who seems really desirous of making an equivalent return for what may be given him. To such individuals families may extend a helping hand. Many of these tramps are unskilled laborers, and on that account find it difficult and often impossible to find employment when there exists any degree of stagnation in the departments of labor. To such a helping hand should be extended, and little odd jobs and slight repairs that are necessary to be done should be given them, with a sufficient remuneration. Don't turn away an honest-looking man who seems ready and eager to work, simply because he is a stranger and you know nothing about him, and let your work suffer meanwhile for want of attention. There are ways enough for defending yourself against the dishonest tricks of the worthless tramp, who chooses a tramp life simply because he is worthless and too lazy to work; if a man is willing to work, and you have the work for him to do, don't let your suspicion drive him away into want, and possibly into crime, when, perhaps, at present his only sin against society is his poverty. Work, if you have it to give, is better than charity, and it should not be withheld.

A New Gospel.

The Berean Evangelist makes this statement:

The pastor of a Methodist church of Birmingham, Ala., was annoyed by the constant attendance of a few colored people at Divine worship, and he recently announced from his pulpit that no colored people were expected to attend, as they were not welcome. He even followed up this order by an explicit notice printed in two daily papers of the city.

This is the way that Southern Democratic minister probably read his Bible and reasoned: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature—excepting colored people. These glad tidings of great joy which the gospel brings, they cannot come into my church to hear. The soul of the black man must be lost if the news of salvation cannot reach it outside of the white man's church." What is a Christianity worth whose teachings and whose practices are in keeping with such monstrous assumptions as these? Such a gospel as that would not be tolerated in any section of the country north of Mason's and Dixon's line. It is only because the debasing and demoralizing effects of slavery have not yet been completely eradicated that the indulgence of such sentiments is possible at this late day in any portion of the South. But this color line is not going to apply to interests beyond this life. The gospel of salvation, like God's atmosphere, is as free to the black man as to the white, and the Christianity that is not broad enough to recognize this truth should be called by some other name, and should be relegated to the Dark Ages of the world's history.

It would be interesting to know if the entire congregation of that Birmingham pastor was in sympathy with their minister. Ministers are not apt to fall very far behind the progressive spirit of their people, and the chances are that this alleged minister of the gospel was pretty certain of his ground before he took his stand where he did in reference to this matter.

SENATOR-ELECT PAYNE, of Ohio, will be more convinced than ever that "on some questions there will be differences among Democrats" when he reads the comments on his recent Columbus speech. His claims that the "Ohio idea" on the tariff saved the Democracy, and that its advent to power must be marked by the turning out of all clerks "who have already enjoyed a liberal term of office," meet with a very wholesome amount of dissent in his own party. The prevailing sentiment in that hungry party, however, is expressed in these words: "We want them offices."

THE State Department at Washington has just received from Cork, Ireland, a solid silver model of Shandon church, Cork, well known in the United States and Great Britain in connection with the famous poem entitled "The Bells of Shandon," by the late Francis Mahoney (Father Prout). The model, which is a beautiful piece of work, is intended for exhibition at the New Orleans Exposition.

THAT THIRD ASYLUM.

To Build or Not to Build: That's the Question.

SACRAMENTO VIEWS AND OPINIONS.

Opposing Views of Our Senator and Assemblymen—Hazard's Reasons—Irreverent Allusions to a Los Angeles Committee.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14.—Since arriving here I find that the Los Angeles delegation are by no means unanimous respecting the location of a branch insane asylum at or near the city of Los Angeles, and it is quite likely that the efforts of those who desire such an establishment there will be fruitless. At any rate it is a little premature on the part of the Board of Trade or any meeting of citizens to proceed to select a site, and the fact that such a thing has been done has excited the risibilities of not a few.

In the first place, it is not altogether certain that a bill establishing a branch asylum for the insane will pass either House. But it is more than probable that an act making the necessary additions to accommodate the increasing number of patients at Stockton and Napa will be brought forward and receive the sanction of the Legislature.

Medical Superintendent Browne, of the Stockton Asylum, in his annual report dated October 1, 1884, has this to say: "The fact that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1884, 764 patients were admitted to this and the Napa asylum, and the large number of inmates now at the latter institution in excess of its capacity for accommodation, are additional and urgent reasons for immediate legislation to provide another asylum for the care of the rapidly increasing insane of the State." This is the only thing bearing on the subject of a branch asylum contained in the Medical Superintendent's report, although I am told that in conversation he advocates that such an asylum be placed somewhere in Southern California, near the line of railroad, and consequently thinks that Los Angeles, or somewhere in that county, is the proper place.

Dr. Browne advances the theory that if such an asylum is established at Los Angeles, with its mild and health-giving climate, many more cures can be effected than by confining the inmates in their present quarters. His idea is to send all the incurables to such asylum, or, as it was expressed to your correspondent, the "mild incurables." He thinks, the same authority says, that the climate will have a beneficial effect; that the institution can have large grounds attached, thereby giving the poor unfortunates who are confined within its walls an opportunity to exercise, and consequently increasing the chances of their recovery.

In a talk with Colonel E. E. Edwards, of Santa Ana, who has a bill on the subject partly prepared, he said that while he intended to introduce such a bill, still he was not prepared to say that he would advocate the location of the asylum at Los Angeles, unless the people of that city clearly demonstrated that it was their desire to have it located there. Colonel Edwards's idea is to introduce a bill calling for the location of the asylum somewhere below the thirty-fifth parallel of latitude, or south of San Luis Obispo county, and then let the Legislature fix the point at which it shall be built. He recognizes the fact that a necessity exists for a branch asylum, but he does not feel morally certain such necessity exists in Los Angeles county, especially as a member of the Assembly from Santa Barbara is willing to take it.

Colonel Banbury is non-committal on the subject, and says he will do nothing without consulting his constituents. The idea, though, is advanced that if it falls to the lot of Los Angeles county to have the asylum, that either Pasadena or Santa Ana is the place to locate it. The breezes at the former place are so balmy and the views so grand that if there is any possible way of curing an incurably insane man Pasadena is the place where Reason is more than likely to assert her throne and Folly fly to the devil.

Mr. Hazard is outspoken in his denunciation of the scheme, and says that not only will he oppose it, but that he will use every effort to prevent its location anywhere in Los Angeles county. He claims that his long residence in the county gives him the right to say that he is familiar with its wants and necessities, and nothing but a popular vote on the subject would convince him that the people really desire an institution for the insane located in their midst. He pictures the present and prospective prosperity of Los Angeles city and county, and makes a comparison by citing the condition of Stockton, which, it is alleged, is at a stand-still, owing to the fact than an asylum for the insane is located there. He claims that the benefits to be derived by the comparatively small outlay of money which the State will make in erecting and maintaining such an institution will be more than offset by the fact that once the name of Los Angeles became associated with an insane asylum her prestige as a sanitarium and as a health resort would be lost forever, because invalids, who now flock there by the thousands every year, would have a horror of the place and would desert it entirely. Another consideration advanced by Mr. Hazard was the fact that there was hardly a woman in the city of Stockton but lived in constant dread that some of the more violent inmates of the asylum would escape at some time or another and run amuck in the town. Consequently, he reasons that the women of Los Angeles are similarly constituted to other women, and, aside from any sentimentalism, their wishes in the matter should be considered. Besides, Mr. Hazard has already introduced a bill for the establishment of a State Reform School for incorrigible boys, and thinks it is better to have a penal institution located in the county than to associate the name of the city of Los Angeles with crazy people. He makes a good argument against the "mild incurable" business by saying that if a resident of Los Angeles happened to go crazy it is hardly probable that the Judge who has the commitment of him to an asylum will send him away from his home, whether his be a "violent" or "mild" case, especially if his relations and friends plead for his retention at that place.

Senator Del Valle does not favor the idea of asking for an asylum at Los Angeles, but puts his opposition on entirely different grounds. He says that it is folly to think of asking or expecting the Legislature at this session to establish any public institution at Los Angeles. While he is in favor of getting all the public buildings possible located there, he deems it unwise to ask anything of the kind at this time. He says that there will have to be asked an appropriation of $40,000 for the use of the Branch Normal School, and also $10,000 for the Supreme Court at Los Angeles. He says there is danger of losing the Supreme Court, and that if too much is demanded Los Angeles will get left. Therefore he thinks it impolitic to risk losing what are actual necessities, and adornments and benefits to the community at large, for the sake of securing what might, perhaps, prove a detriment.

Governor Stoneman could not be seen. He was engaged in wrestling with the problem of whether he ought or not commute the sentence of the murderer, Wright Leroy.

Mr. Thomas Mott is opposed to the idea of associating the name of Los Angeles with an insane asylum, and says there are "cranks" enough there already without building a rendezvous for the accommodation of additional "queer people" from all parts of the State.

Others spoken to on the subject are opposed to the scheme, and when the "crazy committee from Los Angeles," as they are already termed, arrive to give the bill a boost, they will find that they have been hamstrung in the house of their friends.

The House pursues the even tenor of its way, and members go on introducing bills. A little ripple passed over the surface to-day when the announcement of committees entitled to clerks was made. The Committee on Attachés reported in favor of allowing the San Francisco delegation a clerk. Just why that delegation any more than any other delegation should have a clerk was not explained, but as Hussey of San Francisco, is chairman of the Committee on Attaches, he probably knows. At any rate Mc-Junkin moved to strike out that portion of the report, and was followed by McGlashan, Hazard, Beard and Corcoran, while Dr. May and Lovell of San Francisco, and others advocated the retention of the paragraph, and on a vote the allowance was made—47 to 30.

Several resolutions were introduced in the House to-day. One by Pellet, of Napa, in regard to viticulture and for the purpose of investigating by what measures the State may aid wine-growing, which was adopted. Woodward, of San Joaquin, introduced a preamble and resolutions instructing Senators and Members of Congress to oppose the ratification of the treaty with Mexico, which were referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Reeves, of San Bernardino, offered the following:

WHEREAS, The markets for the raisin products are subjected to sudden and dangerous fluctuations of prices, owing to the irregular productions of foreign countries and the perishable nature of the goods, which may often force importations to be sold at less than cost; and

WHEREAS, Imported raisins are produced by cheap labor and capital; and

WHEREAS, The raisin producers of this State are capable of extending their industry sufficiently to satisfy all the demands of the country for home consumption and exportation, and are now suffering from a reduction of the tariff on their products; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Assembly, the Senate concurring, that our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our Representatives requested, to urge the passage of legislation to fix the tariff on raisins and dried grapes at five cents per pound, and on Sultanas and currants at three cents per pound.

At the suggestion of Mr. J. DeBarth Shorb, Speaker Parks has increased the membership of the Committee on Irrigation to twelve, adding E. L. DeWitt of Tulare, A. M. Clark of Fresno, G. G. Goucher of Merced, and C. B. Culver of Yolo.

The squabble over the organization of the Senate has not ended at this writing, but ere this is received for publication there is hardly a doubt but that the Senate will be organized, and perhaps a United States Senator named by the Republican caucus. MACK.

To those who are interested in gaining beautiful homes in Los Angeles and adjoining towns I wish to say that it will be a pleasure to me to give them all the information in my power. I also keep a carriage constantly on hand to show property free of all expense to THOSE WHO WISH TO INVEST.

I make a specialty of Los Angeles city and county lands, and find that I have all that I can do. I also guarantee to represent property just as it is and at its true value. Property that is brought in for me to sell, and on which fancy prices have been placed, I do not take the trouble to show to my customers, as it is throwing away my time to do so, and time is money.

I also wish to say a few words in favor of the best residence property in this city,

Boyle Heights.

It is a place where ladies and gentlemen can go out driving during this rainy weather without danger of getting stuck in the mud; a place where those in search of healthy locations for homes may select their locations at once, without having to wait six months to do so; a place where the altitude is sufficient to bar all malarial diseases, and where a boat will not be required to get to and from the street cars during the rainy season; a place where the drainage is excellent, and where one can have a splendid view of the surrounding country, enjoy the beautiful sunshine and breathe the pure air direct from the ocean; a place where residence lots may be had at this time at a very low figure, but where, in a few years from now, for the reasons mentioned above, they will command a much higher price than lots in any other part of the city the same distance out.

All persons in search of desirable locations for homes at reasonable prices, and who desire to locate in a good neighborhood where the improvements so far are first-class, will find it to their interest to thoroughly examine this fine residence property. We have all the maps and prices of all the building lots and acre tracts on the Heights and are better posted on Boyle Heights property than any agents in the city.

We also have a very large list of ranches, from 5 acres upwards, at prices that those who wish to buy cannot find fault with.

HOUSES AND LOTS: Of these we have a very fine list. We can sell you new houses, hard-finished, of 4 rooms, water piped in house, for $900 and $1000, close to horse cars, ON THE INSTALMENT PLAN.

FOR EXCHANGE: We have quite a number of ranches that we can exchange for city property.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

An Unfortunate Girl to be Sent to Stockton.

Yesterday morning Nora Lynch was adjudged insane by Judge Cheney and ordered to be sent to Stockton. The Board of Medical Examiners in the case were Dr. Maynard, Dr. Wise and Dr. Kirkpatrick. The girl has lived in Los Angeles for more than a year and has a mother living on Sepulveda street, also a brother who is employed at the depot. In making their report to the court, all three of the medical gentlemen agreed that the woman was of an unsound mind, but on the question as to whether she was an unsafe person to be at large, Dr. Wise differed from the other two physicians, and said he considered her perfectly harmless and not a fit subject for the asylum. The woman has lived in several families in the city as a servant during the past year, and although she has continually been in the company of women and children has never offered the slightest harm to anyone. Religion seems to have had a good deal to do with unbalancing the girl's mind. She herself, while being questioned, said: "More people are made crazy by religion than are benefitted by it." Her mother and brother are Catholics and have been greatly concerned because Nora showed a disposition to doubt the efficacy of that religion. Their harshness, and, as she says, refusal to support her properly at home, caused her to leave and make her own living. When in court yesterday morning the girl had a black eye and showed the physicians bruises on her arms and shoulders, the result of a beating given her the night before by her brother, as she stated. When questioned about this beating, the mother admitted that her son had slapped Nora once or twice the night before. She will probably be sent to Stockton to-day.

Damaged Furniture.

Mr. Louis Mesmer, the furniture dealer at the corner of Los Angeles and Requena streets, has had a rough experience lately. A few days ago water began to come in through the floor of his cellar, where o nsiderable furniture was stored, and almost before being noticed had done considerable damage. A pump was immediately set at work and the furniture removed as rapidly as possible, but Mr. Mesmer estimates his damage at upwards of $2000. He expresses the opinion that the water came from some sewer above, possibly the Temple-street sewer.

Ladies' Benevolent Society.

The ladies of the Benevolent Society will give a social at Opera Hall, on Wednesday evening, 21st inst., for the purpose of raising funds with which to carry on their work. Admission 50 cents, refreshments free. The society has many pressing calls for relief. The ladies ought to get generous responses to their request for donations of money and material.

A Woman's Club.

There will be a meeting of ladies interested in the organization of a woman's club, at Bryson Hall to-day at 2 o'clock p. m. All ladies wishing to join such a club are cordially invited to attend. In eastern cities such clubs have been sources of great pleasure and profit to those who join them.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Governments strong. There was heavy pressure to sell and a sharp decline in prices at the Stock Exchange at opening business this morning, the assignments of Oliver Bros., Pittsburg, and John J. Cisco & Co., of this city, having induced selling for both accounts. The greatest pressure to sell was in Granger, Lackawanna and Delaware and Hudson declined, ranging from ⅛ to 3¼ per cent. As day advanced no further failures were announced, and shorts made an effort to cover, and the market improved rapidly. Important prices from lowest point ranged from ⅛ to 2¼ per cent.

COMPOUND OXYGEN.

THIS MEANS (1) OXYGEN, THE VITAL element of the air, without which no life can exist for a moment; (2) Nitrogen, the conservative and preservative element; (3) Magnetism, with which the O and the N are scientifically combined and intensified. And this gives us a curative agent without an equal, that contains three life-giving and health-preserving elements or nature's own selection and of universal application. A poet has named it, "Nature's Triple Elixir of Life," and a doctor has styled it, "Nature's Own Remedy for Many Diseases." It differs from medicines, (1) In that it is not a medicine in any sense, any more than the air we breathe or the electric fluid; (2) It differs from medicine in that, being inhaled into the lungs, it is absorbed directly by the blood and cures by a natural process of revitalization and restoration; (3) It differs from medicine in that its sphere of action is universal, thus adapting it, as the reader will see, to most diseases of the human body; (4) It differs from all medicines or other remedies in that it has cured 75 persons out of every 100 who have taken it. It cannot cure, of course, where there is nothing to build upon. As thousands have testified, it cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Consumption, Nervous Exhaustion, Debility, and other nervous and wasting diseases, not to mention Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Female Diseases, Headache, Vertigo, etc., etc.

It affords us pleasure, therefore, to say to physicians and sufferers that Compound Oxygen is now manufactured at Los Angeles, Cal., by the only physician who ever introduced it, Dr. L. Rigby, Ph. B., and treatments are furnished upon prescription or application.

Terms reasonable.

For Pamphlets, Testimonials, Terms, etc., apply to Prof. Rigby, Compound Oxygen Health Office, Roeder Block, Los Angeles, Cal. jl4 1m.

Delegation of Tramps.

As soon as the north-bound express train stopped at the depot yesterday one of the brakemen pulled a ragged, dirty little twelve-year-old vag out from the truck of the last coach. The boy had ridden from Colton to this city on the brake-beam. He did not seem to realize that he had been in a dangerous position, but rather felt proud of his success in "beating the company." The brakeman informed a TIMES man that on the run he had just finished he had found four tramps at different points on the road this side of Yuma, riding on the brake-beam. Train men say that every few miles along the road they pass tramps, sometimes one, sometimes two or three together, all making for Los Angeles. Some of the tramps say they have been to New Orleans, and are disgusted with the Exposition, and want to see if California is as greatly overrated. Perhaps the vags who set fire to the barn at the Orphans' Home are some of those disgusted vags who have come in ahead of their fellows.

"La Cronica."

Our deserving Spanish contemporary, La Cronica, has recently undergone a complete change of management. Both its business and editorial control are now exclusively in the hands of Señor Eulogio F. De Celis, who has been its editor heretofore. He will at once reorganize the office and put the paper on a better footing. He has the capacity, experience, tact and industry necessary to the success of the undertaking, and will bring them to bear upon the work in hand. The result is not doubtful. This community needs a good weekly newspaper published in the Spanish language. La Cronica, under its new management, is entitled to a liberal public support, and will most certainly receive it. The TIMES wishes it and its courteous redactor complete success.

Accident on Spring Street.

Considerable commotion was caused in the vicinity of the Court-house yesterday by a team of runaways. Mr. James McClurg, of Fruitland, was sitting in his carriage on Spring street just in front of the police headquarters, when the horses took fright, one of them jumping across the tongue and breaking it. The reins were jerked from Mr. McClurg's hands and, breaking the double-trees, the horses started down Spring street. In attempting to turn into Court street one of the horses was thrown down. Before the bronco could regain his feet, Mr. Manuel Domingues, of East Los Angeles, caught him by the bit and prevented further damage.

Going Up.

The six masts for electric lights are now being placed on the Childs tract. Good plank sidewalks will be completed in two weeks. The subscription list will soon be closed.

A CALIFORNIA EXCURSION.

Another Party from New England to Arrive This Morning.

A second excursion under the management of Raymond & Whitcomb, started from Boston to California January 8th. Three cars started, and were joined by a fourth car from Springfield at Greenfield. ANOTHER BARN BURNED.

Supposed to be the Work of Careless Tramps.

Fires in the city are getting to be the regular order of the evening. The blaze of last night was the barn belonging to the Orphan's Home. Everything was quiet at the Home early in the evening. The children had all been put to bed half an hour, when one of the attendants, happening to look out of a window towards the barn, saw a blaze flare up as if powder had ignited. In less than five minutes from the time the fire was first seen the entire barn was enveloped in flames. The hose companies arrived on the scene as quickly as possible, but owing to the fact that the nearest hydrant was located at the corner of College and Buena Vista streets, more than a thousand feet from the fire, nothing could be done to put out the blaze, and the barn burned to the ground. There had been no fire about the stable during the day, and the children, who use the barn for a playhouse, had left it nearly two hours before the fire was discovered. Three tramps were seen lurking in the vincinity of the Home just before dark, and it was thought that they were the authors of the fire. Only yesterday afternoon a ton of hay was bought and put in the loft. The supposition is that the tramps intended sleeping in the barn and carelessly set the hay on fire. The loss to the Orphan's Home was about $175.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Rose Michel was substituted last night at the Grand Opera House by the Rose Etynge Company for Oliver Twist. The company, however, seemed to lose nothing by the change, as the curtain rose on a well-filled house. Miss Etynge as "Rose Michel" did fine acting all the way through. In the denunciation scene she outdid her finest efforts of the week, which was greeted with a storm of applause. Cyril Searle as "Pierre Michel," the miser, held the close attention of the audience, and proved that his metropolitan reputation as a star was well deserved. The other members of the troupe enacted their roles equally well. This afternoon a matinee will be given, when Felicia will again be presented. To-night's performance will close Miss Etynge's present engagement in this city, and she has generously offered the services of her company in a benefit for the Knights of Pythias. Already nearly three hundred tickets have been sold, and the occasion will be made the event of the week. The play will be Damon and Pythias.

The Outcome of a Christmas Eve Dance.

At a dance given in Miles City, Montana, on Christmas Eve, two men named Sullivan and Roberts became involved in a quarrel, and Sullivan shot and killed Roberts. The murderer escaped and the next morning was pursued by officers. The fugitive took refuge in the cabin belonging to Dr. A. E. Carlin, at which place the officers came upon him. Sullivan's surrender was demanded and he agreed to come out of the cabin with his hands up. His hands were held up when he emerged from the door, but they also held a revolver, which he promptly proceeded to empty at the arresting officers. The Sheriff's party thereupon opened a fusilade. The escaped murderer was not touched, but Dr. Carlin and an infant he held in his arms were both killed. Public opinion condemns the action of the Sheriff and his deputies for their rashness, and open threats of lynching were indulged in by the citizens of Miles City.

Bon Ton Hop.

The hop given by the Bon Ton Social Club, at Armory Hall last night, was one of the most pleasant entertainments given by the Club during the season. About one hundred young ladies and gentlemen were present, and every one seemed to enjoy the evening thoroughly. The Grand March Quadrille began promptly at eight o'clock, and the dancing was continued until midnight. The committee to whose efforts the success of the hop was due, were congratulated by the happy members of the Club. The Reception Committee consisted of W. Bloeser, E. E. Adams, A. H. Hager and G. E. Averill. Floor Committee, W. C. Anderson. Aids, R. M. Sharp, F. P. Wilson and C. Richey. The Bon Ton will not give another hop until the middle of February.

Mineral Production.

The following are additional statistics to those published in the TIMES of the 15th, gleaned from the annual statement of Wells, Fargo & Co., of precious metals produced in the States and Territories west of the Missouri river: For California, gold-dust and bullion by express, $12,282,471; gold-dust and bullion by other conveyances, $614,123; silver bullion by express, $1,504,705; ores and base bullion by freight, $871,689. The gross yield for 1884, of all the States and Territories embraced in the statement segregated, is approximately as follows: Gold, 30.90 per cent., $26,256,542; silver, 53.90 per cent., $45,799,069; copper, 7.16 per cent., $6,086,252; lead, 8.04 per cent., $6,834,091.

Y. M. C. A.

The new Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association held a meeting last night. Several proposals regarding a lot on which to build was submitted to the Board, none of which met with their approval, and nothing definite was determined upon as to when or where the Association will build.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

ANAHEIM.

"JULIEN" COMES UP SMILING AGAIN.

(Correspondence of the TIMES.)

ANAHEIM, Jan. 16.—Many substantial improvements have taken place in Anaheim and vicinity since our last regular letter. The following are among the most important:

The floods of last winter showed our people that some protection was needed against damage by an overflow of the Santa Ana river, and last fall the trustees made an appropriation of $600 for the construction of a brush dam at a point about four miles north of town, where the old river bed joins the present one. At the time the work was commenced serious objection was made by parties in Orange and below that point, they thinking that it was the purpose of the Anaheimers to confine all the water to the present bed of the river. After it was understood that it was merely proposed to confine the surplus water to the old bed and thus prevent its overflowing and damaging the lands along its course, all objections were withdrawn and the work of constructing the brush dam was pushed on and completed last month under the direction of Engineer Kellogg. The dam has so far stood well, and it is expected to withstand any ordinary flood of water. This is the same water course which washed away about 100 feet of railroad track and overflowed several tracts of land north of town last winter.

AN INDIAN SCHOOL.

Rev. J. M. Roberts commenced the erection last week of a building, 14x96 feet, which is to be used as an Indians' Home and day school. The building will comprise two large apartments for eating and sleeping, with matron's quarters in the middle. The sleeping apartments will contain twenty beds. The Indians are to be brought from the reservation at San Bernardino, and are to receive instructions in the English language and its various branches. Their education will have to begin at the first, as they do not understand a word of English or of Spanish. As Mr. Roberts says, this will be an advantage rather than otherwise, as under his care the Indians will have a chance to learn all that is good without learning the bad. Mr. Roberts is receiving substantial assistance from the Government in the undertaking, it paying a stated sum per head for the instruction of the Indians. The result of the scheme will be awaited with interest by those philanthropic Christians who believe that there is a broad field for missionary work right here at home, where capital and energy might well be directed before sending off to barbarous countries on the opposite side of the globe.

MINOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Workmen are engaged in plowing and grading Clementina street.

A new bell was received lately for the Catholic church. This makes the fourth bell in town—enough for all ordinary occasions.

Mrs. Merz is erecting a building on Los Angeles street, to be occupied as a blacksmith-shop by Mr. Floto.

Mrs. H. L. Deithman has just completed a story-and-a-half house on the land lately purchased from Albrecht and Wise. Mrs. Deithman will start a chicken ranch on the place.

Mr. Spoerl, a new-comer, who recently purchased the orchard and vineyard near the depot from J. W. Rooch, is building a commodious house thereon, which he will occupy with his family.

T. F. Williams is building a neat cottage on his recently-purchased place on the Gwinn tract, and Henry Messer has lately completed a house on the same tract.

C. E. Leonard has sold his meat market to Eichler Bros., who will reside here permanently. Mr. Leonard and his family will leave for the North, where he will seek a residence.

Owing to the accident to the mail train Tuesday night, it having jumped the track on account of a broken rail, the mail and passengers reached here only at 7 o'clock. No one was seriously injured by the accident, but it is a wonder that a serious accident, resulting in heavy suits for damages, has not yet happened on this branch, which is kept in a shameful condition. It is announced that two daily trains will be put on the route, the freight and travel wanting an extra train.

The rainfall up to date, according to Mr. Langenberger's guage, is 4 69-100 inches. The outlook is very favorable to farmers and sheep men. Farmers are busy plowing in every direction, preparatory to putting in the next season's crop.

The Anaheim public school re-opened on Monday with a fair attendance of pupils.

Magnolia Council, O. C. F., will give a ball and supper in the near future. The precise date has not yet been decided upon.

Anaheim Lodge, A. O. U. W., and Magnolia Council, O. C. F., at the conclusion of their annual installation ceremonies, adjourned to the Anaheim Hotel for supper. Speeches and addresses were made by various members, and a general good time was had. Evergreen Council, A. L. of H., held installation ceremonies last night, at the conclusion of which the members adjourned to the hotel, where an elegant supper awaited them. After supper dancing was indulged in until 12 o'clock. These little affairs are very pleasant and tend to a better feeling of sociability among our people.

Mr. J. B. Price, our newly-elected Judge, has assumed the duties of his office, and dispenses judicial lore from the office of Hudson & Bentz.

A bal masque is being talked of for Washington's birthday. JULIEN.

That Case of Destitution.

In regard to the case of C. E. Clark, who was mentioned in yesterday's issue as a proper subject for charity, the TIMES is informed that the British Benevolent Society, and also the Episcopal church, have been looking after the necessities of the family, and it is claimed that their destitution is not so great as represented. The suggestion is made that it will be better in such cases for the charitably-disposed to send their contributions through some regular channel of relief than to give indiscriminately.

Death of Robert C. Peters.

The name of the young man who died Tuesday, January 14th, at the Sister's Hospital, was Robert C. Peters He came to this State two years ago, unaccompanied by any relative. His only brother, Rev. W. F. Peters, of Vermont, on learning of his dangerous illness last week, started at once to Los Angeles, arriving here only three hours before he died; in time, however, to be recognized by the dying man, thus gratifying his earnest wish to see once more the face of some member of his family.

Spanish-Speaking Policemen.

The Herald is mistaken when it asserts that none of the officers of the present police force speak Spanish. Officer Fred. C. Smith can converse very well in Spanish. Officer William Stoermer speaks excellent Spanish, and Officer Demaussett also understands that language well enough to transact business with Spaniards and natives of California.

From Farming to Fisheries.

Mr. S. P. Bates of Westminster, has rented his farm at that place and will soon go to La Bolsa Chica Bay, where he will give his attention to oyster fisheries.
